

Yellow warning
Ice

Between
18:00 Mon 26 Dec 2022 and
10:00 Tue 27 Dec 2022

Wintry showers fading tonight leading to an ice risk on untreated surfaces.*What to expect

- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths leading to a greater chance of injuries or accidents
- Patchy snow on higher routes, both from wintry showers this evening, and also on leading edge of rain early on Tuesday, making for somewhat difficult driving conditions

Further details

Wintry showers will continue through this evening but as skies clear, patchy ice is expected to develop on some untreated surfaces. Cloud and rain will arrive from the west through Tuesday morning with temperatures starting to rise. Any snow will be reserved for higher ground with patchy and temporary accumulations of 1-2 cm above around 300 to 400 metres.

✓ Medium likelihood of low impacts
